

TIGERS DEFEAT
NORMAL ELEVEN"Hi" Boys Upset Dope and
Now There Is Talk of Championships.

Playing faster, snappier football than their heavier opponents, the El Paso high school Tigers defeated the New Mexico Normal school eleven at Rio Grande park on Saturday afternoon, the final score being 10 to 7, the same as that by which the Normals defeated the Tigers at Silver City recently.

Accurate handling of the forward pass, clever line plunging, punting and greater speed gave the victory to the Tigers. The forward pass was much in evidence, both teams having several plays worked around it, but it was the work of the Tigers with the pass that stood out prominently.

Open style of play.
Neither side scored in the first quarter, which was the most exciting period of the game. Both teams resorted to open style playing. The visitors used frequent passes, few of which were successful, and continuous punting. In the other half, the Normals were satisfied with defensive work.

The second period started off dull. By a series of line plunging, punting and fake plays the visitors woke up to find the ball seven yards from their goal posts. A fake pass to a lineman, successfully executed, scored a touchdown. Normals kicked goal, making seven points.

"Stonewall" Fox made considerable gains through the center of the Hill-bury line. Several passes were tried, but two complete ones brought the oval down to Normal's 10 yard line. A beautiful pass from Shea to Lockenauer and a spontaneous pluck and run by the latter resulted in a well earned touchdown. Schumacher tied the score by kicking goal. A little later, Schumacher kicked the game with a long, low drop kick against the wind for 45 yards.

Game Gets Rough.
Realizing defeat, the visitors got "heated." Slugging, tripping, hurding and other breaches of football rules brought the ball to the hands of the home team. Stiffening up the Tigers easily held them safe.

Young Ford, of the high school, played a great offensive and defensive game. In the early part of the last period of the duel, Ford intercepted a pass to Dunlap from Cleveland on Normal's 10 yard line. Had it been complete it would have been sure defeat for the locals. In this play he was injured at the base of his skull. Continuing in a semi-conscious condition, he played the full game. While waiting to the dressing room he fainted and was unconscious for two hours later. He was taken to the hospital.

All "Hi" men played their share of the game. No stars can be picked. Tatum was out of the game, but will be ready for the Miners next Saturday. Ideal Leonard officiated as umpire, while Dave Crockett timed the game.

On the basis of commensurate scores, many of the local high school students are figuring that the Tigers now rank better than any other team in the southwest. They point out that the New Mexico Aggies, claimants of the championship honors, beat Arizona by but 2 to 0, while the Normals defeated the Arizona 7 to 0. This would rate the Normals quite as high as the Aggies and if the Tigers could beat the Normals, they would rank better than the Aggies.

Inter-scholastic Champions.
Those who advance this argument overlook the fact that the team which represented the New Mexico Normal school on Saturday was not the same as that which beat Arizona. True, several of the stars were on the team, but the Silver City institution had defeated the Tigers up there and looked upon the game here as "settled." And then, too, the Aggies trounced the Tigers here by a score of 27 to 0.

The El Paso Tigers are entitled to the inter-scholastic championship, but they are hardly equal to the task of taking care of the inter-collegiate honors. They need one and are deserving of every credit and effort should be made to get the Tigers into the series for the championship among the high schools of the state.

MAJOR LEAGUE "BARNSTORMERS" UNWELCOME ON COAST
San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 15.—Major league baseball clubs no longer will be welcomed in cities of the Pacific Coast league as participants in exhibition games, as "barnstorming" baseball officials were placed on the taboo list late Saturday night when the league voted to close the gates of all league parks against exhibition games, whether of local or foreign talent.

Such contests were urged by president Allan T. Ryan in answer to the plea of the "goose that lays the golden egg," as they detracted from interest in the game. He said the cause of the action was the fact that manager Charles A. Comiskey brought his Chicago White Sox to the coast, but also divided his players into two teams, neither fully representative of the best material he had.

The league also put itself on record as opposing the playing of winter baseball by players under contract or reservation on the ground that the practice was detrimental to summer playing ability. No action was taken on the salary limit question.

SOCCER will now replace baseball as the Sunday sport at Rio Grande park. The weather is getting a bit too crisp for the summer pastime and manager McCloskey is now negotiating for a soccer game next Sunday afternoon between the United Empire eleven and one of the army elevens. The game of soccer, or association football, is not very well known in the southwest but it furnishes thrills galore and should prove very popular.

THANKSGIVING day sport attractions are now being arranged and the School of Mines has arranged for a football game at Rio Grande park, on the afternoon of the holiday, with the team from the New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell.

SEVERAL local baseball fans have been agitating for an El Paso franchise in the Texas league. John J. McCloskey now has things arranged so that the franchise is available if the funds are produced. If these Texas league fans are really in earnest about wanting to try class B ball here, let them dig up the checkbooks and put up some of the long green to back the team. It's going to take a lot of financing and now is the time to whack up the cash—not hot air.

SOLDIER PITCHER BEATS "PROS;"
ALL-STAR ARMY TEAM A WINNER

Cronicker Lives Up to Advance Notices, and Nagle is Only Professional Able to Do Much With His Offerings; Cold Puts Quietus on Baseball, and Soccer is to Be Played at Rio Grand Park Hereafter.

CRONICKER, the star flinger of the Fourth Field Artillery, made good in his debut in El Paso on Sunday afternoon, when, at Rio Grande park, he let the Professionals down with six hits and two runs, the all-star Army team winning by a score of 10 to 2. The weather was altogether too crisp to enable the pitchers to show at their best, but Cronicker let out enough to know that he has more speed than Graham, even though he has not that youngster's variety of offerings.

Cronicker worked a fast straight ball alternately with a nice curve. The curve, apparently as fast as the straight ball but seems to slow up as it breaks. The new hurler fanned 17 batters in the game and did not give a pass.

The Fourth also had two other men on the all-star team. Sheridan played a nice game at first base while Cameron bled down third in fine style. Sheridan was handy with the stick, getting a single and a double. Lack of practice undoubtedly accounted for the two errors made by him at first base.

Soccer Replaces Baseball.
The new all-star team looks fully as strong as that which represented the 20th Infantry in the series with the Puritans and it is too bad that cold weather will now prevent further contests. Soccer is to replace baseball as the Sunday attraction at Rio Grande park in the future.

Cliff Hill was unable to get here from Santa for the game and "Lefty" Lewis worked six innings. He had his drop ball working perfectly in the early part of the game but he was starved due to lack of practice since Labor Day, began to tell and he was bumped hard in the sixth inning. He then gave way to Perry, whose chief fault was unsteadiness.

"Dutch" Nagle was the only Professional to do much with Cronicker's offerings. He connected safely twice but one of the hits was a single at shortstop over which the scores departed as to whether it was a hit or an error. He also had two hits.

The blanchers were in demand Sunday, for the shined grandstand was rather chilly and the 300 fans who turned out preferred to be out in the sun.

DILLON IS LIGHT BUT IS WILLING;
HE'S ANXIOUS TO FIGHT WILLARD

Declares His Showing Entitles Him to Battle With the Kansas Giant for Title; Dillon Says He Can Win on Points Unless Willard Knocks Him Out, Which He Doesn't Expect; McGorty Coming Back.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Jack Dillon looks very conspicuously along the pugilistic horizon just now. He doesn't seem sizeable enough to battle successfully against Jess Willard, but he's surely big enough to take on—and probably beat—the fellows who have been pestering Willard with challenges.

Dillon, however, yearns to swap punches with the champion. He's confident that he can beat him.

"Six months ago when I announced that I'd fight any heavyweight in the country, some folks laughed at me," said Dillon. "I said I could beat the best of them—and the louder was the laugh. For the next six months I tried to prove my claim by getting a fight with some of those heavies."

"Well, at last I got a chance against Charley Weinert. He was touted as one of the best heavies in the game. He was far bigger than me, he outweighed me—but I beat him and all the newspaper men who saw that scrap."

say I beat him in a most decisive manner. "I weigh only 170 pounds, but that's no handicap. I'm after Willard. He's my goal. No man has ever knocked me off my feet and I don't think Willard can turn the trick. If he can't, I'll outpoint him in every round."

Dillon vs. Frank Moran.
Promoters just now are trying to arrange a Jack Dillon-Frank Moran match. Dillon is eager to take a crack at the conqueror of Jim Coffey and he isn't quibbling over terms. He'll fight for anything he can get. He's very confident that he can beat him. He wants a guarantee and his demands are a bit too large for the ordinary promoter. But Moran probably will come to earth shortly, make a moderate request, and the bout will be on. It ought to be a hummer.
